Dear Parents, Staff, Students, and Supporters of St Joseph’s College,

Last Wednesday, our nation celebrated ANZAC Day. For the first time in some years, ANZAC Day was celebrated during school time. It marked the ninety-second anniversary of the Gallipoli landing – the first major military action fought by Australian and New Zealand forces during the First World War.

Why is ANZAC Day so special to Australians? The Australian War Memorial website states:

“Though the Gallipoli campaign failed in its military objectives of capturing Constantinople and knocking Turkey out of the war, the Australian and New Zealand troops’ actions during the campaign bequeathed an intangible but powerful legacy. The creation of what became known as an “ANZAC legend” became an important part of the national identity of both nations. This shaped the ways they viewed both their past and their future.”

My thanks go to the students and staff of the College who marched last Wednesday, either with the College or with other service groups. It’s a great way to remember those who gave so much.

“Lest We Forget”

WELCOME

We have new staff at the College:

• Ms Kylie Evans has joined the staff for the next four terms, teaching Mrs Young’s and Mrs Gelkov’s classes.
• Ms Vanessa Milligan has joined the staff for the next two terms, teaching Mrs Taylor’s classes.

Please make Ms Evans and Ms Milligan welcome.

PRAYERS

Please pray for the repose of the soul of the father-in-law of Mr Scott McDermott who passed away at Easter time.

Please also pray for the repose of the soul of Mrs Kim Baxter, mother of Alana (8D) who passed away suddenly on 23 April.

TERM 2

The term ahead is a very busy one with all students involved in examinations. I ask all parents to please continue to sign and monitor their child’s diary and looking continually at their child’s bookwork.

Best wishes to all for the term ahead.

Best wishes and

God Bless,

Mr Peter McLoughlin
Principal
Welcome to Term 2

We hope you enjoyed your holiday break and that you are ready for all that Term 2 brings.

Last week, Year 12 students commenced their Half-Yearly exams. Next week, students in Year 11 will sit for their Half-Yearly exams, Year 10 students will be attending the HSIE excursion to Sydney and Canberra, and Year 12 students will take part in their Retreat.

And while we’re on the subject of exams, students in Years 7-10 will be sitting their Half-Yearly exams in Week 7 of this term - all in all, a busy time ahead!

And don’t forget to keep up-to-date with all the upcoming school events at our website: www.bps.lism.catholic.edu.au

We hope you enjoy today’s issue.

Jumpers for the Needy

Once again St Joseph’s College students will be collecting jumpers for the needy.

We are again collecting jumpers. If you have any unused/unwanted jumpers that are clean and in good condition please bring them in to the College.

Thank you, Mrs McConnell

Mother’s Day
Sunday 13 May 2007

SRC Fundraiser

Have you been saving up to treat Mum to something special for Mother’s Day?

Special goodies will be on sale at the College at the end of Week 2 and all of Week 3

So far we have chocolates (always a favourite) and some other wonderful gifts that Mum will just adore.

If you haven’t already started, put your pennies away to buy something for Mum, just to show you care . . .

“World’s Greatest Shave”

is coming to St Joseph’s College!!!

At ‘long’ last, Luke McCarron (11D) will be having his head shaved on the night of the Talent Quest, Friday 18 May (Week 4, Term 2).

Luke will continue his collections up until the night of the Talent Quest, so please continue to support Luke in his fundraising efforts.

Editors Note: When we think of the ANZACs, the following “Word of the Week” – which appeared in a Newsletter last term – bears repeating . . .

Do you know the meaning of this word? Sacrifice (n) the surrender of something of value as a means of gaining something more desirable or of preventing some evil; the loss entailed by giving up something. Think about the sacrifices that others have made on your behalf . . .

ANZAC DAY CEREMONY

ANZAC Day is a special day for all Australians. It is the day when we ordinary citizens pay tribute to the first-born ANZACs, the Diggers, and to all members of the armed forces who have defended our nation, our country, our way of life, in all the years since.

On Thursday 26 April, a special assembly marked the occasion of ANZAC Day here at the College. Mr John Jordan from Legacy gave the ANZAC address and presented a book to the College.

Special thanks to the members of the SRC, the sound technicians and representatives from cadets who ministered to the Australian flag. Alana Banaghan, Bradley Clark, Rhett Clayton, Isaac Cork, Matthew Coughran, Brendan Kenney, Sam Monaghan, Eliza O’Donohue, Jesse O’Reilly, Briana Schmalkuche and Dean Stegeman all performed their tasks admirably.

At the completion of the Ceremony, students who took part in the ANZAC Day March were presented to the Principal. They will shortly receive certificates of appreciation.

KINGSCLIFF MEMORIAL WALKWAY

On Thursday 26 April, the Wommin Bay Memorial Walk was officially opened by former Australian Defence Force Chief, Peter Cosgrove.

Plaques commemorating significant military conflicts in Australia’s history are being placed beside the new walkway. Local schools were asked to each design a plaque for a particular conflict in which Australia was involved.

History students in Years 9 and 10 were all asked to research and prepare a design suitable for the Kokoda conflict.

From all the work that was submitted, the text written by Daina Waugh (10E) and the artwork designed by Kelly Sheath (10A) was judged to be the best. A copy of their design is below. Thanks to Ms Priddis who transported the girls, did some filming and attended the opening with them.

KOKODA

The Kokoda Track is a single-file trail from Ower’s Corner to Kokoda which twists through 96km of rugged and isolated terrain. The track passes through the Owen Stanley Range with its highest point being 2,250 metres at Mount Bellamy.

On this track Australian troops fought against the Japanese Imperial Army and inflicted the Japanese with their first defeat in 1943. The Australians fought through many obstacles such as hot, humid days, intensely cold nights, torrential rainfall and tropical diseases like malaria.

Defeating the Japanese on the Kokoda Track was one of the vital elements which saved Australia from invasion in World War II. But it was the nature of the fighting and the resolution of the Australian defenders which made it one of the heroic episodes in Australian history.

During the four months of fighting in the Owen Stanley Ranges, the Australian troops lost 607 men and 1015 were wounded.

ANNUAL COLLEGE SWIMMING CARNIVAL
FRIDAY 23 FEBRUARY 2007

and the Winner is Hanly
Today, we have all the news about the Swimming Carnivals held during Term 1: the College Swimming Carnival; the Diocesan Swimming Carnival; and the NSW Combined Catholic Colleges Swimming Carnival.

Thank you to everyone involved with this year’s Annual College Swimming Carnival, held on Friday 23 February, at Club Banora.

I would like to commend the students and staff for their enthusiasm through both regular and novelty events on the day and for bearing up with the weather.

Again we were not fortunate with the weather – which seems to be the standard for any sporting event of late. With the rain teeming down, we were a wet and bedraggled lot upon returning to the College for the after-event assembly.

I hope you enjoy reading about the following achievements made and photos taken on the day. And don’t forget, the Newsletter comes up in full colour on the College’s website: www.bps.lism.catholic.edu.au.

MATTHEW LANCE (12B)

A special mention should be made of Matt Lance who is the first student in the history of the College to represent at the CCC level every year from Year 7 to Year 12.

Not only has Matt reached this level each year, but has always placed first in at least one event and qualified for the All Schools Carnival.

Matt has always displayed great courtesy and sportsmanship and it has been a pleasure to accompany him to many of these carnivals. He is a great credit to the Diocese, the College and his family.

Well done Matt.

TWEED VALLEY COMPETITION

Due to the ANZAC Day Public Holiday, Round 3 (SJC versus Murwillumbah High School) will now take place this Wednesday, 2 May.

This will appear in next week’s News Sheet.

SPORTS NEWS

Don’t forget, if you have any sports news or sporting achievements you’d like to share with the St Joseph’s College community, please send the information in and we’d be happy to put it in the College Newsletter.

SURFING NEWS

On the last day of Term 1 the following students represented the College in the Far North Coast Regional Surfing Titles: Benjamin Webb, James Bell, Luke Wheateley, Mitchell James, Casey Ainsworth, Madison Jordan and Catherine Conlan.

On a beautiful day with 4-6 foot of clean surf, the competition showcased some outstanding surfing. Major congratulations to Mitchell James who won the junior boys individual title and goes on to the State finals. Mitchell and Luke surfed well to be narrowly defeated in the semi-final of the junior boys’ team event by the eventual winners. Cath and Madi surfed well and showed commitment in taking on the waves in the U19s girls’ team events. Ben Webb surfed well and made the final of the Open Boys Individual event where the standard was roundly applauded. Ben and James were beaten in the first round of the teams event.

Our next round is the Tweed Coast Cup coming up on Friday 18 May. Stay tuned for more details.

To those who haven’t volunteered before, please let me put your mind at ease:

☐ The Canteen is air-conditioned, and has a very pleasant atmosphere
☐ Limited hours required (9:00am-2:00pm)
☐ Your lunch is complimentary
☐ It’s a great service to our/your kids
☐ And a highly entertaining time will be had by all!!

Please call me at the College if you find you can help. Any assistance would, of course, be greatly appreciated.

MEAL OF THE WEEK

Now with the winter months approaching we can start to enjoy some yummy winter meals. This week we have the ever-popular “Fried Rice” for the very reasonable price of $3.00. So come on in early to place your order!

Cyberbullying is bullying in a modern technological form. Like conventional bullying, cyberbullying can cause psychological damage leading to behavioural problems and even self-harm. Cyberbullying has the added menace that information can be disseminated to huge numbers of people and it can be extremely difficult to find out who is responsible.

Signs of cyberbullying in children
- Spending long hours on the computer
- Shutting down windows on the screen when you come into the room
- Reluctance to talk about internet activities
- Using the computer mainly for chat rooms rather than homework
- Changes in behaviour eg trouble sleeping, stomachaches, headaches, crying
- Not wanting to go to school
- Wanting to be brought home from school during the day
- Unexplained lack of money or loss of personal belongings

Types of cyberbullying
Cyberbullying may be carried on email to email but can also occur on websites, blogs, chat rooms, bulletin boards, discussion groups, instant messaging and news groups. Mobile phones can be used as effectively as computers. Both can be employed for:
- Sending offensive messages, jokes or cartoons to a person
- Sending offensive messages about a person to a group
- Sending threats
- Sending or posting insulting, untrue or cruel messages about someone
- Sending vulgar, embarrassing or private photos eg taken in a changing room or toilet
- Sending or posting personal, embarrassing or private information about a person or their family
- Revealing secrets told to a former friend
- Excluding someone from an online group
- Pretending to be a friend to extract personal information and then making it public
- Telling sexual information, true or not
- Pretending to be someone else and sending messages that negatively rebound on that person

Why don't victims tell?
As with every kind of bullying, there is a code of silence that stops children from involving adults. There is also an unwritten rule that online material stays online and is not revealed to parents or teachers. Teenagers also fear being banned from using computers or their cell phones. Most of all they fear the retaliation they may be subjected to if they do tell.

What harm can it do?
In extreme cases, some teenagers have been driven to suicide by cyberbullying. Most victims suffer feelings like embarrassment, shame, anger, depression and withdrawal. Cyberbullying is pervasive, often anonymous, and easily spread to hundreds, even thousands, of people.

Why does it happen?
The Internet encourages long-distance, arms-length, anonymous communications. Users often feel they can say what they like and even pretend to be someone else, adopting a new persona for different chat rooms and blogs.

What can parents do?
- Make it clear that computers and computer behaviour are not off-limits to you.
- Find out what your child is doing online. While your children may think their online behaviour is private, it is your house and you have the right to know about, and oversee, what is done on the computers in your house by your children.
- Be alert to secretive behaviour or blank or switched screens when you approach. POS means “parent over shoulder”.
- Bring in a computer expert if you are unfamiliar with computers. Warn your children that this will happen periodically.
- Check the History file on your browser to see what sites are being visited by your children. If the History is often empty this can be a sign someone is trying to cover their tracks.
- Keep the computer in the family room or other shared space.
- Seek expert advice if you are worried your child is visiting unacceptable sites, being bullied, or participating in bullying others, even as a bystander.
- Discuss ethical behaviour and the importance of treating others with kindness and respect, even when anonymous.
- Tell them not to send emails when they are angry or upset and never to write anything they wouldn't say to the person's face.
- Encourage your children to be frank with you but careful about what they tell others.
- Let them know you think they should tell if someone else is being cyberbullied.
- Show them ways to block unwanted communications and contact the Internet provider.
- If a telephone is being used, contact the telephone company.
- If you know the offender’s name, inform the parents about what their child is doing. A non-threatening way of doing this is to write a letter explaining the problem and attaching a copy of the offending message.
- Tell the school what is happening.
