Principal’s Message

Dear Parents, Students, Staff and Friends of St Joseph’s College,

Last week, I included an article on ‘Cyberbullying’ and the various forms it can take. This week’s focus is on strategies to prevent and respond to cyberbullying. I hope this article helps parents and students.

Peter Lyon

KEY ADVICE AND STRATEGIES FOR CHILDREN TO PREVENT AND RESPOND TO CYBERBULLYING

It is important to equip young people with strategies for getting out of situations involving inappropriate, unwanted or difficult contact online, and to leave them feeling empowered.

PREVENTING

1. Always respect others
   Remember that when you send a message to someone, you cannot see the impact that your words or images have on the other person. That is why it is important to always show respect to people and be careful what you say online and what images you send. What you think is a joke may really hurt someone else. Always ask permission before you take a photo of someone. If you receive a rude or nasty message about someone, or a picture, do not forward it. You could be assisting a bully, and even be accused of cyberbullying. You could also be breaking the law.

2. Think before you send
   It is important to think before you send any images or text about yourself or someone else by email or mobile phone, and before you post information on a website. Remember that what you send can be made public very quickly and could stay online for ever. Think about the information you have in the public domain. Be careful who you give your mobile phone number to, and consider whether, for example, you should remain a member of a network where people are treating you badly.

3. Treat your password like your toothbrush
   Don’t let anyone know your passwords. It is a good idea to change passwords on a regular basis. Choosing hard-to-guess passwords with symbols or numbers will help stop people hacking into your account and pretending to be you. Remember only to give your mobile phone number or personal website address to trusted friends.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION NEWS

Today we celebrate the first day of winter. Let us pray that we will appreciate the environment in which we live.

Mr Scott McDermott
RE Coordinator-Ministry

READING OF THE WEEK

As the days shorten and the air grows colder, the earth is given rest and renewal. Today’s reading comes the Book of the Prophet Isaiah:

The rain and the snow fall from the sky. But they don’t return without watering the earth that produces seeds to plant and grain to eat. And that’s how it is with my words. They don’t return to me without doing everything I sent them to do.

Loving God, mother of all creation, may we recognise your work in the pattern of our lives. We ask this through Christ, our Lord. Amen.

CURRICULUM NEWS

ATTENTION: YEARS 7-10 FAMILIES
CORRECTION TO LAST WEEK’S NEWSLETTER
YEARS 7-10 HALF YEARLY EXAMS
- 9, 10, 11, 12 & 15 JUNE

Please note the correct dates for these exams and apologies for the incorrect information in last week’s newsletter.

These exams will be held over 5 days: Tuesday 9 to Monday 15 June (Monday 8 June is a public holiday).

As always it is an expectation of the College that all our students arrive promptly by 8:30am to allow them to access their lockers by 8:35am, before morning homeroom starts at 8:40am.

Students will receive a copy of their year group’s exam and lesson timetable this week to assist them being on time to exams and lessons.

Ms Natalie Bryett
Curriculum Coordinator

If you have any news of a student’s achievement, sporting, academic, or otherwise, please let us know, as we’d love to share it with the SJC community, via the weekly College Newsletter.
Do you know the meaning of this word?

Manners: (n.) social conduct; a socially acceptable way of behaving.

Courtesy: (n.) politeness, good manners.

Respect: (n.) an attitude of deference, admiration or esteem; polite or kind regard; to not violate.

Do you have good manners?
- Do you show courtesy to others? to your family, your friends?
- Do you show respect towards others: to your parents, your teachers, your siblings?
- Do you have respect for yourself? You can show self-respect by respecting others: their thoughts and their feelings.

BE KIND TO OTHERS AND BE KIND TO YOURSELF!

Eco Warriors

A new student body has been formed, called “Eco Warriors”. This group has been formed in response to the school’s Sustainable Environment Management Plan (SEMP).

This plan has been devised by Ms Berry and Ms Nugent after they attended a Sustainability Workshop. A SEMP is necessary in order to obtain Government and other funding.

An application for Solar Power funding under the National Solar Schools Program has been submitted and we have been informed that we are eligible for significant funds.

The role of the Eco Warriors group is to look at ways of reducing the carbon footprint of the College and to inform and educate students, about local and global environmental issues.

The first meeting of Eco Warriors will be held this Friday, 5 June which is also World Environment Day.

PARENT/CARER FEEDBACK

A number of parents have asked for more feedback on how their son or daughter is going in Mathematics at the College. I would recommend that all parents submit their email address on the site www.mathletics.com.au/parent in order to receive weekly reports on the time spent and results achieved in Mathletics.

Parents and carers will need their student’s login details which should be found in the front of their diary. You will have access to reports and summaries without being accused of being intrusive by your offspring. At the very least it will show your kids that you are interested in what they do at school.

Science News

Looking to the skies in June - winter is a great time for astronomical observations - the skies are clear and the weather is (usually) good.

Astronomical Highlights for June in the International Year of Astronomy . . .

- Venus, Mars and the Moon are together in the pre-dawn sky with good viewing from 18 to 26 June. Mercury will also be present at this time.
- Jupiter will be very near a Waxing (getting smaller) Gibbous (between half and full) Moon on 13 June in the Eastern evening sky (11:00pm).
- Saturn can be seen in the early Northern sky and will be near a crescent Moon on 27 and 28 June.

Happy viewing!

Junior Students - Half-Yearly Examinations

All students in Years 7 to 10 are aware of the approaching Half-Yearly Examinations in Week 7 of this term.

All these students should be accessing www.mathletics.com.au from home in order to achieve to the best of their ability. Some students at the College have never accessed this site from home, I would challenge these students to put in the time and effort in order to achieve a certificate and prepare for these exams.

Senior Students

All of our students at the College have been registered to use the fabulous teaching/learning resource at mathsonline.com.au, and due to a sponsorship deal secured by the program designers and administrators, it has been made available to our entire school community FREE of charge.

Some of the features that this program offers:

- Full lessons for each concept with a voice-over and numerous examples of varying difficulty. Every lesson has a pause and rewind facility to help students grasp concepts at their own pace.
- Every lesson has an accompanying printable worksheet to consolidate the concept, as well as fully worked solutions.
- A student’s ongoing use and progress in the program is stored for their own and their teacher’s perusal at any time.
- The program can be accessed from any internet-ready site, not just at school.
- The entire Year 7-12 program is available to every student, not just their particular year group.

Given that the program covers most of the concepts that we teach, and as good as this resource is, the College wishes to make it clear that it was never intended by its creators to replace the work that our mathematics teaching staff already do. This program is best used as a support/supplement to the classroom teaching/learning experience.

All senior students will be issued with their unique logins and passwords over the next few days by their Maths teacher, and are encouraged to use this resource as directed by their own teacher.

Students in Years 7 to 10 already have Mathletics to use, but some staff will also be introducing mathsonline.com.au as an extra resource. If your son/daughter would like to try it out just ask for the login details.

CYBERBULLYING

KEY ADVICE AND STRATEGIES FOR CHILDREN TO PREVENT AND RESPOND TO CYBERBULLYING

RESPONDING

4. Block the bully

Most responsible websites and services allow you to block or report someone who is behaving badly. Make use of these features. As a last resort, changing contact details, such as an instant messaging identity or a mobile phone number, can be an effective way of stopping unwanted contact.

5. Don’t retaliate or reply!

Replying to bullying messages, particularly in anger, is just what the bully wants.

6. Save the evidence

Learn how to keep records of offending messages, pictures or online conversations. These will help you demonstrate to others what is happening, and can be used by your school, Internet service provider, mobile phone company or even the police to investigate the cyberbullying. You can tell the other person that you are saving the conversations, which may put a bully off.

7. Make sure you tell

You have a right not to be harassed and bullied online. To get help, tell:

- An adult you trust, who can help you report the incident to the right place, or call a helpline like Kids Helpline on 1800 551 800 in confidence;
- The provider of the service (eg. your mobile phone operator or social network provider) that you have been bullied; check providers’ websites to see where to report incidents;
- Your school: your teacher or the Year Coordinator at your school can support you and can discipline the person bullying you;
- The police, if the cyberbullying is serious and a potential criminal offence has been committed.

Finally, don’t just stand there - if you see cyberbullying going on, support the victim and report the bullying. How would you feel if no-one stood up for you?

Raymont Lodge provides modern and comfortable single room accommodation for up to 120 students in a safe and friendly atmosphere. All meals are provided as well as a number of other services that include: internet access, individual telephones, common room, and swimming pool.

Additional information is available on the internet at www.raymont.com.au or by contacting the College (07) 3377.9903 and requesting an information kit.

Raymont Lodge is a ministry of the Uniting Church in Australia, Qld Synod.
The following information is provided to the St Joseph’s College community regarding Human Swine Influenza (H1N1):

Cases of human-to-human spread of a swine flu virus have been confirmed in Australia and NSW schools have been asked to implement steps to minimise the impact and spread of human swine influenza.

To limit exposure and spread of the virus, schools are required to take steps to exclude staff and students for a period of seven days where they may have been in a country affected by human swine influenza. Currently where staff or students have returned or arrived from Mexico, USA, Canada, Japan or Panama they will be required to stay away from school for this period. This list of countries will be continually revised by the DET and NSW Health and may extend to travel from other countries. We will keep you advised as we receive new information or you can visit the NSW Health website www.health.nsw.gov.au for the most up-to-date information about swine flu.

Please note that the period of seven days is a precautionary measure. If staff and students remain well and do not show any symptoms after seven days they may return to school as the symptoms to the virus are thought to develop between 24 hours to seven days after possible contact.

Where anyone from the College community has recently returned from any country overseas and is feeling unwell with any flu-like symptoms, they should go to a hospital Emergency Department for immediate assessment.

As the new swine influenza strain has only been identified recently, a vaccine for human swine influenza is not yet available. Existing vaccines for normal human influenza will probably not provide protection against human swine influenza. Scientists worldwide are working to develop a suitable vaccine against human swine influenza, however a vaccine is not expected to become available in the near future.

Until a vaccine becomes available, the best method of prevention will be to ensure that everyone washes their hands regularly and thoroughly, steps away from others when they cough or sneeze, coughs or sneezes into tissues and stays away from people who are sick.

For more information, please see the NSW Health website www.health.nsw.gov.au.
